PROJECTS

Splitease · Expense Splitting Web Application · GitHub ↗ — Next.js, TypeScript, PostgreSQL, Prisma

- Engineered a full-stack group expense splitting application featuring secure JWT authentication, responsive UI, and persistent ledger tracking.
- Implemented an automated debt settlement graph simplification algorithm to minimize total transaction count between group members, optimizing queries for sub-100ms real-time balance calculations.

PulseStream · Real-Time Telemetry & Observability Platform · GitHub ↗ — Next.js 16, TypeScript, Kafka / Redis, Tailwind CSS

- Architected a real-time event telemetry dashboard handling high-throughput workloads from 500 to 10,000+ events/sec, implementing an in-memory circular ring buffer with micro-batching for constant O(1) memory usage at 60 FPS.
- Modeled distributed pipeline dynamics calculating Kafka consumer lag, worker processing latency, and in-memory Redis caching, engineering real-time monitoring for p95 route latencies and HTTP error rates (4xx/5xx).
